

DAV Commander Warns Veterans

The period in which disabled veterans may take advantage of government-sponsored education and training is growing shorter, the Disabled American Veterans warned today as it urged the war handicapped to enroll in schools and colleges.

J. G. Caldwell, Acting Commander of the South Bay Chapter, said disabled veterans should be prepared for any possible business recession by getting in an open job market.

acquiring training and skills that will enable them to compete.

He said Public Law 16, which provides tuition and subsistence allowances, extends only until 1956, and in order for a veteran to obtain a four or five-year training period he must enroll before 1951 or 1952.

Under present law, the DAV Commander said, veterans disabled in World War II service before July 25, 1947, are eligible for Public Law 16 benefits.

Letters To The Editor

Weeks to Re-dedicate Stadium

Editor, Torrance Herald:

Within the last few days Torrance lost one of its most loved citizens.

I am speaking of Raymond Rogers who was known to everybody as "Ray."

It was my honor and privilege to have known him for 25 years as a friend and in business.

You know of the amount of time and energy which he spent in the securing of the new grandstand at Torrance High School. I feel sure that it was a terrific drain on his physical being.

Wouldn't it be nice for the stadium to be named "Rogers Stadium" in his honor.

It would stand as a monument to a man who was a fine father, husband and a citizen of Torrance.

I am happy and proud to suggest the above and hope it may be possible to name the stadium after "Ray."

Yours sincerely,
Paul F. Vonderahe
